

IECEX Split 05.-09.09.2011.

Dear Everybody,

Following the great feedback we got after last year's sailing trips, I received many inquiries into possibility to organize something similar this year. I am therefore very happy to be able to offer you 3 different sailing trips for those few days you will be spending in our beautiful city!

Each of them is carefully planned for you, to experience the most of it in a relaxing way in such a short time (since next time you come to Split, you'll want to have at least a week ☺)

All the trips start from the marina in front of your hotel just after breakfast, and end on time for the evening programs or dinner. In just one day you can sail, swim, sightsee, taste some local food and wine, experience the life on the island, and learn more about our traditions and history.

Just choose the day/route and send me a mail for reservation as soon as possible (since there are maximum 12 places for each trip!)

I am here for all the questions and help you need!

Regards,
Ivana Jurić

Exploring Tradition In Secret Dalmatia- Visit ŠOLTA and BRAČ

All over the world, Croatia is mostly famous for its region Dalmatia, boasting with long coast full of islands, amazing Mediterranean climate, crystal blue sea and long history of life and culture. Exploring islands is the best and the most unique way to experience the true colours, smells and tastes of Dalmatia!

Šolta and Brač are two closest islands to Split, both inhabited and very interesting to visit.

Brač is the largest and the highest of the central Dalmatian group of islands, also a popular tourist destination, but still mostly undiscovered and unspoilt by modern life and mass tourism.

It has been continuously inhabited since Paleolithic times, and traces of different eras can be found everywhere. Today, in more than 20 little and distinctive villages, there are just around 14.000 inhabitants.

The climate is typically mediterranean- hot and sunny summers, mild winters, rainy autumns and bright springs- thus perfect for peaceful and relaxing life throughout the year.

Brač is well known for its local agricultural products and vegetation; it is covered with pines, olives, figs and grapevine plantations. Unlike many other Croatian islands, Brač managed to keep its traditions alive with local people still living from what they grow on land inherited from their ancestors, just like in the old times.

Brač is also famous for its special stone, and tradition in cutting, sculpturing and using it everywhere.

Šolta is a little island very close to Split, but very peaceful and unique. Life is still simple and slow here, the nature unspoilt, the atmosphere relaxing and reminiscent of centuries ago. This is a perfect place to learn about our tradition, ways of life and see for yourself how relaxing and slow time can pass...

SUNDAY 4th September 2011. SAILING TRIP TO ISLAND BRAČ

Just two hours sailing from your hotel gets you to Pučišća, the biggest and for some people the most beautiful Brač village, famous for its stone quarry and the oldest stone cutting school in Europe. The tradition of stone cutting on Brač originates from Roman times while this quarry in Pučišća was established as early as middle ages, and supplied enough stone for more than half buildings of medieval Split. You can take a walk along the seafront, take photos of beautiful stone sculptures and amazing architectural stone details, take a peek through the windows of school's workshop (sometimes it is open for visit), and buy some stone souvenirs.

The 30 minutes drive in a van through the interior of the island, takes you to the highest peak of all Croatian islands- Vidova Gora. From the 778 metres high promontory you can see all the islands of Split archipelago, and sometimes, in very clear days, as far as the coast of Italy. Just below the hill, in the distance, you'll see the most famous Croatian beach- Zlatni Rat in Bol.

Another 15 minutes in a van get you to Donji Humac, another stone Brač village, famous for 'Kopačina', according to many people, the best restaurant on the island. Here you'll taste the most famous Brač traditional dish- roast lamb on a spit, together with some other homemade specialities, cooked on traditional recipes...

After lunch, the 15 minute drive takes you to Splitska, a little coastal village, where the yacht is waiting to take you for another hour and a half under the sails, and back to your hotel...

Group: 8-12 people

Price per person: 135€

Van transport (as in the programme) and lunch in Kopačina -welcome homemade aperitifs, domestic prosciutto and cheese, lamb, salad, desert. (Supplement for fish menu- 10€)

MONDAY 5th September 2011. SAILING TRIP TO ISLAND ŠOLTA

Sailing to Stomorska, a picturesque village on the north coast of Šolta. You can stop by for a swim on your way, or somewhere on the island.

Walk along the seafront and feel the atmosphere of old traditional island village.

Van transport to Gornje Selo for the unique 'Olive tour' (special recommendation!). The tour with lunch lasts around 3-4 hours and includes visiting the old olive groves, new olive mill, presentation of the oil production on the island and in the mill, olive oil tasting (different local types of extra virgin olive oil and aromatic olive oils) and lunch in the mill- everything with different aromatic olive oil: bruschette, homemade traditional seafood risotto, salad... and famous local Dobričić vine.

Late afternoon return to the boat and sailing back to the hotel.

WEDNESDAY 7th September 2011. SPEED BOAT TRIP TO BOL AND ZLATNI RAT (Brač)

The most famous place on Brač (and maybe on all Croatian islands!) is Zlatni Rat (Golden Cape), a beach close to village Bol on the south coast of the island. Since it is a quite distant destination for one day of sailing, we chose to organise it with a speed boat. This way you can have enough time to experience the beautiful village (maybe visit a precious franciscan monastery or wine tasting?), have lunch in one of the local restaurants, and of course- swim on the famous pebbly beach.

The Golden Cape beach stretches into the sea with its half-kilometre long body, changing its shape depending on the wind. Being the only beach in the world that grows vertically to the coast, it is really a true world phenomenon and a place worth visiting.

Cranchi 41, a luxury motor boat which will get you to Bol in 45 minutes (2x 350HP)

Group: 8-10 people

Price per person: 225€

Price includes: Cranchi 41 fully equipped and skippered, (with fuel), from Le Meridien to Bol and back, welcome drinks on board
